

Joe Hirst

Engineer / Protools & Logic Programmer

Joe is the latest engineer to join the Miloco staff. He began working for Miloco as an assistant only a year and a half ago after we rescued him from the North of England. His extensive experience meant that he swiftly progressed to engineering.

Joe has a passion for music and technology. He is an expert on Protools and Logic (so good, in fact, that we put him in charge of our Protools rigs). He also has an ongoing infatuation with vintage microphones and equipment that – combined with his great all round knowledge of music – guarantees him as an asset to any session.

Although he has only recently started engineering it has not stopped the clients from wanting to use him. He's already engineered on a Beth Gibbons soundtrack, and more recently for clients such as Bloc Party and Finch. He has just finished mixing the forthcoming debut album from Ali Love. An eclectic mix of clients, and one he's keen to continue.
